

U. S. BEGINS INQUIRY INTO TITANIC DISASTER

TESTIMONY SHOWS MANIA FOR SPEED CAUSED COLLISION WITH APPALLING LOSS OF LIFE

J. Bruce Ismay Proves Nervous Witness Before Senate Committee—Marconi Tells Possibilities and Limits of Wireless—Captain of Carpathia Gets Nations Thanks—Seriousness of Inquiry Indicated By Order For Ismay and Others To Remain.

New York, April 19.—The seriousness of the inquiry by the senate investigating committee into the Titanic disaster was disclosed to night when Senator Smith of Michigan, the chairman, at first flatly refused to let any of the officers or the 200-odd members of the crew of the sunken steamship get beyond the jurisdiction of the United States government. The men were all to have sailed tomorrow on the steamer Lapland. Later it was settled that the greater part of the crew would be permitted to sail on this steamer, but that the twelve men and four officers among the survivors now under subpoena, together with Mr. Ismay, would not be allowed to depart.

The committee adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and at a conference to night it was decided to let the men go, except those under subpoena.

Crash Came After Warnings.
The first day's testimony brought to the front the apparent conclusion that the biggest ship which was ever built, a "lifeboat in itself," according to the views of modern shipbuilders, sank in mid-ocean with more than 1,500 human beings, because she was being rushed across the ocean almost at top speed and crashed into a field of icebergs after warnings had been given to look out.

That so few were saved from the watery graves was because there were not enough life boats on board to accommodate the passengers. There were only twenty lifeboats, because the Titanic was believed to be unsinkable.

List of Witnesses.
This state of affairs appeared after the committee had examined to day J. Bruce Ismay, managing director of the White Star Line; Arthur Henry Rostron, captain of the Carpathia; Second Officer Light- holder of the Titanic, who went down with the ship, but later was rescued; William Marconi, inventor of the wireless telegraph; Thomas Cottam, wireless operator on the Carpathia, and other survivors from the sunken steamship.

It was said at night's conference that Mr. Ismay was very anxious to leave at once for Europe, as he had been worn out by his experiences. His pleas, however, were unavailing.

Rostron Stirred Committee.
Captain Rostron stirred the committee when he said that he was running a risk when he drove the Carpathia through the sea of ice at top speed toward the Titanic after receiving her call for help.

"I doubted the watch and knew what I was about. I took the risk, for there were many human lives to be saved," he said.

"In the name of congress and the people of the United States, we thank you for what you did," said Senator Smith solemnly.

Ismay on Stand.

Adjusting his cuffs, Mr. Ismay was visibly nervous when he took the stand. He gave his age 50 years. Mr. Ismay said he desired to express his sincere grief at the catastrophe and to welcome the fullest inquiry.

"The exact time I do not know because I was asleep," he said.

"During your voyage did you know you were in the vicinity of ice?" Senator Smith asked.

"I knew some had been reported," replied the witness.

Mr. Ismay was asked how long he remained on the injured ship.

"That would be hard to estimate," he responded. "Almost until she sank. Probably an hour and a quarter."

Then Senator Smith asked the circumstances under which he left the boat.

"The boat was being filled," began Mr. Ismay. "The officers called out to know if there were any more women to go. There were none. No passengers were on the deck. So as the boat was being lowered I got in."

"The ship was sinking?" asked Senator Smith.

"The boat was sinking," almost whispered Mr. Ismay.

"Was there any attempt to lower the boats of the Carpathia to take on passengers after you went aboard her?" asked Senator Smith.

"There were no passengers there to take on," said Mr. Ismay.

Four Hours in Life Boat.
"How long were you in the life-boat?"

"About four hours."

"Were there any other lifeboats that you saw?"

"Yes, we hailed one," he said.

500 miles during the day time and 1,000 miles at night.

"Did you hear the captain of the Carpathia say that they caught the distress message from the Titanic almost providentially?"

"It was absolutely providential," he replied.

"Is there any signal for the operator if he is not at his post?"

"I think there is none," said Marconi.

"Ship owners don't like to carry two operators when they can get along with one," he said.

Second Officer Testifies.
Charles Herbert Lightgholder, second officer of the Titanic followed Mr. Marconi.

"Everything was complete in regard to life saving equipment," said Mr. Lightgholder. "Sixteen lifeboats of which four were collapsible were on the Titanic."

During the tests, he said, Captain Clark of the British board of trade was aboard the Titanic to inspect its life saving equipment.

"How thorough are these captains of the board of trade in inspecting ships?" asked Senator Smith.

"Captain Clark is so thorough that we called him a nuisance," Lightgholder said he was in the sea with a life belt for an hour and a half.

"What time did you leave the ship?"

"Did I leave you?"

"Yes sir."

"Were all the lifeboats gone then?"

"All but one. I was about fifteen feet from it. It was hanging in the tackle and they were trying to get it launched. The first officer, Mr. Murdoch, who lost his life, was managing the tackle."

"When did you see Mr. Ismay?"

"When we started to uncover the boats. He was standing on the deck."

"Was he fully dressed?"

"I couldn't say for sure, it was dark."

"When you saw Mr. Ismay twenty minutes after the collision, were there any other passengers near him?"

"I did not see any one in particular," said Mr. Lightgholder, "but there might have been some."

The witness described the collision as a "slight jar followed by a grinding sound."

Mr. Lightgholder said that on Sunday he saw a message from "some ship" about an iceberg ahead.

The ship was making about 21 to 21½ knots, he testified.

Not Anxious About Ice.
"Were you anxious about ice?"

"No sir."

"And you put on additional look-out?"

"No sir."

"When Captain Smith came on the bridge at five minutes of nine, what was said?"

"We talked together generally for twenty or twenty-five minutes about when we might expect to get to the icebergs. He left the bridge, I think, about twenty-five minutes after nine o'clock and during our talk he was keeping the ship on her course, but that if I was the slightest degree doubtful as conditions developed to let him know at once."

"Did you keep the Titanic on her course then?" Senator Smith asked.

"Yes."

"When did you next see Captain Smith?"

"When I came out of the officers' quarters after the impact."

"Then Captain Smith did not return to the bridge before your watch expired?"

"I did not see him."

"What time did you leave?"

"I turned over the watch to First Officer Murdoch at 10 o'clock."

"Do you recall now just what the Titanic's position was when you turned over the watch to Murdoch?"

"I do not now sir, but I did know at the time. We talked about the ice that we had heard was about and I remember we agreed we should reach the reported longitude of the ice floes about 11 o'clock, an hour later. At that time the weather was calm and clear. I remember we talked about the distance we could see. We could see stars in the horizon. It was very clear."

"Did you see Murdoch after that?"

"Yes, when I came out of the officers' quarters after the impact, Murdoch was on the bridge, he on one side and Captain Smith on the other. I never spoke to Murdoch after I turned the watch over to him. I saw him later working over the last life boat as the ship went down."

Saw Captain on Bridge Last.
"Where did you last see Captain Smith?" the senator asked.

"I was busy at my own work, about 50 feet away, and have a recollection of seeing the captain walking across the bridge. I did not then hear him give any orders. I was too far away."

"When the Titanic sank were her decks intact?"

"Absolutely intact," said Lightgholder.

Senator Smith asked what was the last order he heard Captain Smith give.

"When I asked if I should put the women and children in the boats," replied Lightgholder, "he responded 'yes, and lower away.'"

"What did you do?"

"Obedied orders."

The last boat, a flat collapsible, to put off was the one on top of the officers' quarters. Mr. Lightgholder said. Men jumped upon it on deck and waited for the water to float it off. Once at sea it upset. The forward funnel fell into the water, just missing the raft and overturning it. The funnel probably killed persons in the water.

This was the boat I eventually got on," declared Lightgholder. "No one was on it when I reached it. Later about thirty men clambered out of the water on to it. All had life preservers."

"Did any passengers get on?"

"J. B. Thayer, the second Marconi operator, and Col. Gracie, I recall," said the witness.

Several Died From Cold.
"All the rest were firemen taken out of the water. Two or three died that night and slipped off into the water. I think the senior Marconi operator did that."

"Died from cold?"

"Yes sir."

"Was there any effort by others to get on board?" continued Senator Smith.

"We took all we could."

"There must have been others in the water?"

"But not near us."

"How far away?"

"Seemed half a mile."

"Who took command?"

"I did, as far as necessary."

"When you left did you see any women or children on board?"

"No sir."

"Any passengers on the boat deck?"

"A number."

"How were the passengers selected to fill the boats?"

"By sex."

"Who determined who should go?"

"I did."

"Whenever I saw a woman I put her in, except stewardesses. I turned those back."

"Did you see any attempt to get women to go who would not?"

"Yes."

"Why would they not go?"

"I had not time to learn."

"Did any ask for their family to go?"

"Yes, one or two."

"Did any families go?"

"No."

In the first boat to be put off Lightgholder said he put 20 to 25. Two seamen were placed in it. The officer said he could spare no more and that the fact the women rowed did not show the boat was not fully equipped. At that time he did not believe the danger was great. Two seamen placed in the boat, he said, were selected by him, but he could not recall who they were.

"How did you happen to name them?"

"Because they were standing near."

"Did they want to go?"

"I did not ask them; they went by my orders."

"How many passengers did the second boat take?"

"About thirty," said Lightgholder.

"Did you see that boat again?"

"Not to my knowledge."

"The third boat?"

"By the time I came to third boat—at about the port side—I began to realize that the situation was serious and I began to take chances."

"How long did all the work of loading and lowering a life boat take?"

"It was difficult to say, but I think about 15 or 20 minutes."

"How many passengers did the third boat contain?"

"I filled her up full as I dared, sir. Then I saw her about 35. I think the women and children couldn't have stood quieter if they had been in church. In loading the fourth life boat Lightgholder said he was running short of seamen.

"I put two seamen in and one jumped out. That was the first boat I had to put a man passenger in. He was standing nearby and said he would go if I needed him."

"I said 'are you a sailor?' And he replied that he was a packman. Then I told him that if he was sailor enough to get out over the bulwarks to the lifeboat, to go ahead. He did, and proved himself afterward to be a very brave man."

"Who was he—did you know him?"

"I didn't know him then, but afterward I looked him up. He was Major Bechen of Toronto," said Lightgholder.

"Had you ever seen him before?"

"Never."

On the fifth boat Lightgholder had no particular recollection.

"The last boat I put out, my sixth boat," he said, "we had difficulty in finding women. I called for women and none were on deck. The men began to get in—about one-tenth of the vote had been reported."

Seventy-one precincts, all but one of which was outside of Omaha, gave the following vote:

TITANIC'S STORY IS FULLY TOLD

SURVIVORS GIVE FURTHER DETAILS OF AWFUL CATASTROPHE.

List of Dead Fixed at 1635—Ship's Speed Established But No Censure Is Heaped For Capt. Smith, Who Had Steered From Regular Course—Capt. Rostron Leaves For Mediterranean.

New York, April 19.—From survivors of the Titanic disaster to day came the beginning of the full story of how the great White Star liner, her hand plucking to the last, sank off the grand banks with more than 1,500 souls aboard. From the Countess of Rothes, now quartered luxuriously in a New York hotel, to six Chinese coolies, who escaped by hiding under the life boat seats, all of the 705 rescued have been safely bestowed.

The last night's total estimate of the dead was 1,535; to day the White Star Line issued a statement, placing the toll at 1,635. Exactly how many died will never be known; it has been established officially, however, that the Titanic was traveling 21 knots an hour when she struck the iceberg. Notwithstanding this, however, none of the survivors, from the fact of Captain Smith's death, have censured Captain Smith, who went down with his ship.

The Titanic's rate of speed, which was approximately 26-1/2 land miles, was brought out to day from the lips of J. Bruce Ismay, president of the International Mercantile Marine and managing director of the White Star Line, who appeared as a witness before the United States senate committee, which is investigating the disaster.

Naval hydrographers freed Captain Smith of blame because they say analysis of ocean charts has shown that the skipper, warned of the presence of icebergs, had steered the Titanic fully sixty miles southward from the regular course. To prevent similar disasters, the hydrographic office in New York issued to night an order shifting routes of trans-Atlantic lines 180 miles southward from the path which the Titanic followed.

After giving his testimony before the senate committee Captain Rostron of the Carpathia took charge of his ship which departed late to day for the Mediterranean. Captain Rostron went as he told how the Carpathia had picked up the unfortunate set adrift from the Titanic. Before he left his passengers presented him with a loving cup.

Several consistent accounts of what happened aboard the Titanic have been obtained from survivors, though it was manifestly impossible for any one fully to recount all that occurred on her decks, four city blocks in length.

Captain Smith went down with his ship, but several passengers say that First Officer Murdoch shot himself through the head before she sank. Among those who assert this is Mrs. George D. Widener of Philadelphia, whose husband and son were lost.

Col. John Jacob Astor's young widow remained secluded in the Astor residence too ill, according to her physicians, to make any statement.

Omaha, Neb., April 20.—Definite results on the primary in Nebraska yesterday will not be known until possible late to day. At one o'clock this morning only about one-tenth of the vote had been reported.

Prohibition Convention.

Springfield, Ill., April 19.—Resolutions of condolence for the bereaved families of the men who died in the Titanic disaster and of admiration for the heroism of those who sacrificed their lives for others in the sinking of the ill-fated liner, were adopted by the prohibitionist state convention here today. Standing with bowed heads the delegates sang "Nearer My God to Thee," the hymn played by the Titanic band just before her plunge beneath the waves.

Candidates for presidential electors at large and for university trustees were named and 151 delegates to the national convention at Atlantic City in June were chosen.

Dudley Grant Hays, of Chicago, presided over the convention with T. F. Gumbart, of Macomb, as secretary and Joseph Harvey, of Chicago, as assistant.

Robert H. Patton of this city was re-elected chairman of the state central committee.

EXPERIENCES OF SURVIVORS

Woman Tells How She and Three Daughters Were Rescued—Husband and Son Perished.

New York, April 19.—Mrs. Mark Fortune of Winnipeg told how she and her three daughters, Lucille, Mabel and Alice, were rescued after being separated from her husband and son, Charles. They were put in a boat with a Chinaman, an Italian stoker, and a man dressed in woman's clothing. Only one, the stoker, could row, and Mrs. Fortune's daughters took turns at the oars.

Mrs. Fortune said her husband and son were stopped by officers. They did not realize that the ship was in danger, and did not even say good-bye to the men. One of the girls, however, called back to her brother, Charles.

"Look after father," which was the only message which passed between them.

Mrs. Fortune said the boat was terribly overcrowded. The Fortunes witnessed the plucking of the Titanic. Just before the vessel went down they saw the people on board struggling and heard shrieking and yelling. The land was visible, she said, continued playing until the boat passed out of sight. Some of them had life preservers on their arms as they worked their instruments, others had belts around their waists. Not one of the bandmen attempted to save himself.

Seaman's Story.
At the American Seaman's Friend here, G. A. Hogg, a seaman, told to night of the fate of Captain Smith. Hogg says that as the Titanic sank a big wave washed him over the side and he swam to a raft carrying thirty-five persons.

"The next moment I saw Captain Smith in the water alongside the raft. There's the skipper, I yelled, give him a hand, and they did. But he shook himself free and shouted to us, 'Good-bye boys, I'm going to follow the ship.' That was the last we saw of our skipper."

Hogg said that later they were transferred to a life boat in which there was a woman, stark naked. She was numb with the cold and some of the men took off their clothes and wrapped her in them, but she died soon afterward.

Sidney Hunsbury, the quarters master, said he dragged two women out of the water, one of them raving. She died before the Carpathia picked up the lifeboat.

Last Message.
"If anything should happen to me, tell my wife in New York that I have done my best in doing my duty."

This was the last message of Benjamin Guggenheim of the famous banking family dictated to a steward only a short while before the banker went down with the Titanic. It was delivered by James Etches, steward of the Titanic, to whom Mr. Guggenheim communicated it.

Mrs. Guggenheim, who prostrated with grief and illness consented to transmit the message to her brother-in-law. The steward produced a piece of paper. He had written the message on it, he said, to be certain that it would be correct. The message was as given.

"That's all he said," added the steward, "there was not time for more."

"Mr. Guggenheim was one of my charges," said Etches. "He had his secretary with him. His name was Giglio, I believe, an Armenian, about 24 years old. Both died like soldiers."

"When the crash came I awakened them and told them to get dressed. They stayed together and I could see what they were doing. They were going from one life boat to another helping the women and children. Women first, and he was of great assistance to the officers."

Well shortly after the last few boats were lowered and I was ordered by the officer to man one of our life boats and that was the last I saw of him and his secretary."

Efforts to find the body of Benjamin Guggenheim, who was the fifth of the seven brothers, as well as the bodies of other victims, will be made by the six surviving brothers. Shakespeare offered to refit any

CONTRACTS LET FOR STOKE IMPROVEMENT

Woolworth & Co. Will Have Fine Display Windows.

Contracts for the improvements contemplated in the building occupied by the E. W. Woolworth & Co.'s 5 and 10 cent store have been awarded to Joshua Vasconcellos, who will install the structural steel work and to Joseph DeGovea, who will have charge of the display windows and the entrances.

Architect C. W. Buckingham has prepared plans in accord with those in use in stores of the Woolworth company in many other cities. The lighting of the interior of the show room and of the windows will be with the latest designs in that line and this part of the improvement will be in the hands of G. A. Stieber.

The fronts of the fifty-five stores occupied by the firm are, when it is possible similar in appearance. There will be four circular display windows of plate glass at the store here and two entrances. The weight of the plate glass and iron work such that a concrete foundation will be laid to support the weight and the side walls of the building will be strengthened with reinforced concrete banks. The floors of the two vestibule entrances will be laid with mosaics in various colors, making a pleasing effect. The Woolworth Co. has recently taken a ten year lease on the building, which is a portion of the Wadsworth estate, for which E. E. Crabtree is the manager.

VALIANT WORK BY MAJOR BUTT

WOMAN SURVIVOR SAYS HE WAS A SOLDIER TO THE LAST.

His Heroism Described by Mrs. H. B. Harris of Washington, Who Was Near Him and Knew Everything He Did.

Washington, April 19.—Mrs. Henry B. Harris of this city, to day described the heroism of Major Butt, she said:

"Archie Butt was a soldier to the last. The sight of that man, calm, gentle and yet as firm as a rock, will never leave me. Major Butt was near me and I know nearly everything he did."

"When the order came to take to the boats he took command of those near him. You would have thought he was at a white house reception, so cool and calm was he. When the time came he was a man to be feared. One of the earlier boats, carrying almost 50 women was to be lowered when a man, suddenly panicked, ran to its stern."

"Major Butt shot arm out, caught him by neck and jerked him backward. His head cracked against a rail and he was stunned."

"Sorry," said Major Butt, "women will be attended to first or I'll break every

ILLINOIS TAKES INITIAL CONTEST

WESLEYAN DEFEATED BY SCORE
OF 11 TO 2.

Hedgecock Was Invincible, Allowing
But Two Hits and Striking Out 10
Men—Locals Bunch Nine Hits Off
Young in Fatal Seventh—Illinois
Meets Shurtliff Today.

Baseball was formally opened in Jacksonville Friday when Wesleyan university of Bloomington and the Illinois college nine met on Illinois college field. The contest was a one-sided affair, the visitors being taken into camp by a score of 11 to 2. The fact that the visitors got two in the third made them over-confident and even after the fourth when Illinois made 5 runs, the Methodists still had hope that the game was in their hands.

Perhaps above everything else, the victory was due to the superb pitching of Hedgecock, who allowed the visitors but two hits and made 10 men bluff the air. The sturdy pitcher was also given good support and the entire squad displayed splendid work. The fielding of the visitors was ragged and Young appeared to be off color, his slaughter in the eighth being pitiable.

Pitcher Leroy Hedgecock

Neither side scored in the first two innings. In the third inning, without the aid of a single hit, Wesleyan scored the only two runs they were able to push across during the entire game. Ficker, first man up, was hit by a easy grounder from Hedgecock
to Eagan, Ficker advancing to second on the same play. Stautz reached first on an error by Jaccard, Bleker going to third. On an error by Goodwin, Pace reached first base and Ficker scored. Carlyle flew out to Apple and Stautz scored from third
after the catch was made.

Although the Illinois players secured a single in the first inning and one in the third, it was not until the fourth inning that they were able to score. Darragh, first man up, was singled, Goodwin drew a base on balls, Eagan struck out. Clowes reached first on a fielder's choice, Darragh scoring by a beautiful slide to the home plate. Hedgecock drew a base on balls, filling the bases.
Apple made his second single of the game, scoring Goodwin and Clowes.
Warren struck out. Buchheit reached first when Ewins dropped his long fly, near the gymnasium, Apple scoring on this play. Jaccard flew to Hall.

Young settled down fairly well until the seventh inning, when he went up in the air. Four singles, a double, coupled with an error and two hit batters, produced a total of nine runs. In this inning Jaccard, Darragh and Goodwin came to bat
twice; Jaccard made a single each time, Darragh was hit both times by a pitched ball and Goodwin drove out a single and a double. Young settled down again in the eighth and retired the home team in easy fashion.

Illinois college will go to Alton today, where they will play Shurtliff college. Goodwin will be in the box for Illinois and the boys feel confident of a victory.

Anna Held's Opinion of An Automobile

Seattle, Washington.
Gentlemen:
I cannot help but say that the big, luxurious Oakland car that took me so easily and comfortably around your beautiful boulevard is the easiest riding American built car I have seen. Of course, my foreign machines cost me thousands of dollars, but this is the first American built car that I ever thought their equal.

Respectfully yours,
Anna Held.
You will note by Miss Held's letter that she has had experience with foreign built cars which cost her thousands of dollars. You will also note carefully that the Oakland is the first American built car that she ever thought the equal of the high priced foreign made cars. This is one of the best tributes that has ever been paid the Oakland, and, coming as it does from a woman who is in a position to judge of the comparative merits of high priced cars and medium cars, it should carry great weight.

FAIL IN STUDIES.
Messrs. Cullen and Clemm, two of the star athletes of the Springfield High school team, have been discharged from the track team, on account of low grades in their studies. Cullen won both the mile and the half mile at the indoor meet and Clemm held down both the fifty and the 100 yard dash last year and was reported better this year. Coach Weber feels keenly the loss of these athletes, but believes he still has a hard team to beat.

Confirmation services were held Friday night, at Trinity Episcopal church, in charge of Right Rev. E. W. Osborne, D. D., of Springfield, who delivered a splendid sermon, after which the following class of four young ladies was confirmed: Misses Velma Toon, Miss Marjorie Becker, Miss Adelaide Wright, Miss Lydia Teague.

H. K. Olmsted, 10 Chestnut St., Galesburg, Ill., says: "I suffered with pains over my hips and in my back, which in cold weather were almost unbearable. My bladder was inflamed and made me very uncomfortable. Soon after I started to take Foley Kidney Pills I began to improve, until now I am again in perfect health and free from pain." City Drug Store, J. A. Obermeyer.

From the design of the engine to the final test of the complete car—every step of Reo manufacture takes place in one great factory. Every detail is watched and tested. Each material is proved strong as well as careful test can prove it. The same painstaking care and thoroughness is carried on down to the pattern making, the moulding of iron, aluminum, brass and bronze castings and the making of special tools, jigs and fixtures for the manufacture of parts. See this car and you will wonder how such a good car can be sold for so little amount of money.

The Really Latest Styles— Those Fresh From Paris—

are only in the Pictorial Review Spring Fashion Book. It can't help being that way—for the Pictorial Review pattern business is the big part of the American Fashion Company, which supplies (as it has for twenty years past), the cloak and suit manufacturers with all their advance models. These manufacturers must have their styles three or four months before the retail selling season opens, so as to get their goods made up, so you will see why Pictorial Review fashions are offered you perhaps even before dry goods stores put the newest models on sale. This is also why Pictorial Review patterns are

Sixty to Ninety Days Ahead

of all others—you could easily convince yourself, as have thousands of other women, by comparing all the pattern publications. If you do, just notice the numerous Pictorial Review styles for draped skirts, the latest waists, the new cutaway jackets—as against the one or two partially new or "warmed over" models shown by others. This leads us to say

When you select your patterns from the Pictorial Review Spring Fashion Book you do not run the risk of having your dress out of date as soon as it is made.

Pictorial Review Patterns, Too, Are Superior to All Others. Here are the Reasons

With each Pictorial Review pattern is a patented Construction Guide, showing how to produce a perfectly fitting garment with absolute certainty. There can be no home-made look about a garment made from Pictorial Review patterns; it looks right—fits right and stays right.

Because of these Guides, there is great economy in using Pictorial Review Patterns. Other pattern makers, who can use no Cutting Guide, realize that you won't lay out the material as carefully as a professional cutter, so they allow an extra half-yard or so of material to compensate for your possible mistakes. You always pay for this extra material when you use other patterns—but with Pictorial Review patterns you save your goods.

These two guides, both FREE, are given only with Pictorial Review patterns.

We are Exclusive Selling Agents in Jacksonville for Pictorial Review Patterns
A visit to our pattern department will be a pleasurable experience.

In each Pictorial Review pattern is a patented Cutting Guide. This shows how to lay out the pattern correctly—and just as scientifically as an expert cutter could do, so as to use the least possible material. There is absolutely no chance of making mistakes—no chance of cutting two backs or two fronts, no chance of wasting an inch anywhere.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

CARRY OUT INSTRUCTIONS OF PRIMARY ELECTION.

Eight Delegates Elected to National Convention and Instructed to Work for Nomination of Roosevelt—Deneen and Friends in Control. John R. Robertson Alternate to National Convention.

Springfield, Ill., April 19.—Cheering every mention of Theodore Roosevelt's name, the Republican state convention of Illinois today elected eight delegates at large to the Republican national convention and instructed them to do everything in their power to secure the nomination of the former president at Chicago in June.

The delegates at large chosen were:

Governor Charles S. Deneen, Rex O. West, chairman of the Republican state central committee; B. A. Eckhart of Chicago, chairman of the Chicago, La. Y. Sherman of Springfield, Robert L. Clark of Peoria, L. Emerson of Mt. Vernon, Walter Rosenthal of Rock Island.

Alternates—Anton Vaneck of Chicago, John R. Robertson of Jacksonville, Walter S. Schroeder of Chicago, George K. Schmidt of Chicago, Col. John R. Marshall of Chicago, W. L. Sackett of Morris, Senator H. M. Dunlap of Champaign, C. H. Williams of Quincy.

Nominations made were: For university trustees—A. P. Grout of Winchester, present trustee; P. A. Peterson of Rockford, Mrs. Carrie Alexander Bairenburg of Belleville, present trustee.

The proceedings were harmonious throughout with Governor Deneen and his friends in absolute control. The Taft men threatened for a time to make trouble, but at the last minute they gracefully submitted to the will of the majority without opposition.

It was the first state convention in many years not attended by United States Senator Shelby M. Cullum. Congressman Joseph G. Cannon, Congressman W. B. McKinley and United States Senator William Lorimer, who were active supporters of President Taft.

The only excitement occurred when State Senator Henry S. Merrill, representing the progressive faction, offered a strong resolution favoring the initiative and referendum and was ruled out of order by the chairman. Senator Merrill then appealed from the decision, but the delegates sustained the ruling of Chairman Doyle.

The committee on resolutions by a vote of 16 to 9 declined to insert a woman suffrage plank in the platform. A delegation of fifty women, headed by Miss Jane Addams, Mrs. Grover Bower and Dr. Anna Blunt, appeared before the committee to urge votes for women. Later the women made an unsuccessful effort to have the convention adopt the plank.

The Platform.
The platform was read by Orville F. Berry, chairman of the committee on resolutions, was adopted by a unanimous vote. The summary of the platform follows:

Endorsed Theodore Roosevelt for president and commended his former administration.

Endorsed President Taft's administration and policies.

Endorsed Lawrence J. Sherman for United States senator.

Commended every feature of Governor Deneen's administration.

Recommended amendments to make the present anti-trust law definite and easily understood.

Endorsed the election of United States senators by popular vote.

Endorsed the principle of the system of maximum and minimum tariff rates.

Recommended a short ballot.

Recommended a reform in the state's taxing system.

Recommended necessary legislation to make it possible for at least three state constitutional amendments to be adopted at the same time.

Recommended the enactment of a law prohibiting the sale of gambling quick stocks and bonds.

Endorsed Governor Deneen's plan of developing the state's water power with the construction of a deep waterway.

Recommended the passage of an anti-pass law for railroads and steamship lines and an anti-trunk law for telegraph and express companies.

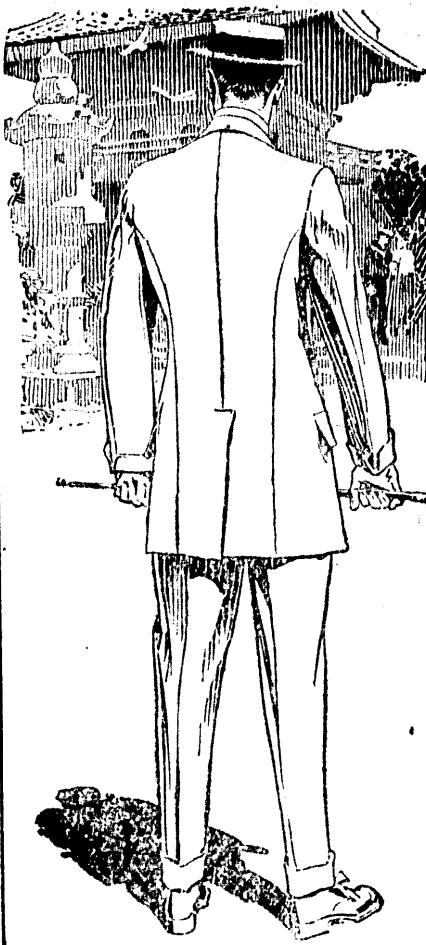

Recommended the passage of an effective corrupt practice act.

Denounced control of the state legislature by "jackpot" and corrupt bi-partisan leaders.

The planks endorsing the administration of President Taft and former President Roosevelt read in part as follows:

"We heartily endorse the administration of President William H. Taft, both for his judicious progressiveness and for his remarkable record of achievements. In his own way he has carried out the policies of William McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt, adding them to his own and these measures in favor of which the party has declared in its platform."

"We heartily approve the great work done by ex-President Theodore Roosevelt in arousing the public conscience and mind to the necessity for higher standards of public duty, greater sense of public responsibility on the part of the servants of the people and the necessity for protecting the people against predatory business interests. We are heartily in accord with his great work in bringing the government of the people back into the hands of the people, thereby restoring the true ideal of democratic government. With such a record to endorse him to his countrymen it is not surprising that

Gibson, butcher, 143 Grand Ave., Jacksonville, Ill., says: "About four years ago I had an attack of the la grippe and it weakened my kidneys. After that whenever I caught cold, I had a dull pain in the small of my back and I always felt tired. Being urged to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I did so and they cured me. Since then when I have felt the least return of my trouble, I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and they have always relieved me. I hope other kidney sufferers will try this excellent medicine."

Mr. Gunn died at his home in Indianapolis, Ind., Wednesday night, at 11:45 o'clock after a rather brief illness. He had been complaining for some time, but his condition was not thought to be serious and his death was somewhat sudden.

Alva Gunn was born in Morgan county, July 13, 1879, and was married to Miss Emma Schryer of Lodi, in the fall of 1897, who preceded him in death some thirteen years ago. When a young man Mr. Gunn learned the blacksmith's trade in this city and after working at it for some time he learned the millwright's trade, at which he worked for a number of years. James was held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon from the residence, three and one-half miles northwest of the city, in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends. DEMOCRATS HELD TWO CONVENTIONS

NATIONAL GATHERING MUST DECIDE QUESTION.

Harrison and Sullivan Continue Their Bitter Fight For Control of Illinois Democracy—All Efforts to Bring About Harmony Fail.

Peoria, Ill., April 19.—Mayor Carter H. Harrison of Chicago and National Committeeman Roger C. Sullivan, refusing each suggested basis of compromise, today continued their bitter fight for control of the Illinois Democracy by holding two distinct Democratic state conventions and naming two sets of delegates from Cook county and the state at large to the Democratic national convention. There was selected but one set of down-state delegates, however, and the credentials committee at Baltimore will be asked to rule on the Cook county and state at large delegations only. The Sullivan convention named a complete list of delegates, but the Harrison convention did not have a sufficient attendance of down state delegates to warrant such action.

Summarized results show that thirty, or the regular number of delegates to the national convention, have been selected from fifteen down-state districts; forty, or twice the regular number of delegates, have been named from ten Cook county districts, and twenty-four, or three times the usual allotment of delegates at large, are scheduled to go to Baltimore. This was due to the fact that the Sullivan convention named sixteen delegates at large with a vote of one-half each, while the Harrison men named eight each with a full vote.

The two conventions dragged through the day and into the night, while various conference committees discussed possible compromises. Neither side apparently was willing to grant anything the other and distrust of all overtures toward suggested harmony marked the proceedings.

Many delegates had left the city before the final business of the conventions had been completed and toward the end there were no roll calls.

The platform drafted by J. Hamilton Lewis and others of Chicago was adopted in both conventions. The platform pledged the delegates to support Champ Clark and the other candidates nominated in the recent state primaries.

Former Mayor Edward Dunne of Chicago, Democratic nominee for governor, delivered brief addresses to both conventions.

A delegation of women suffrage leaders, headed by Miss Mildred J. McGrew of Peoria and Mrs. Catherine Vaughn McCullough of Chicago, attended the Sullivan convention and occupied stage seats. The women later held a conference with Mayor Harrison at a downtown hotel.

The delegates at large, each with one-half vote, named by the Sullivan convention, were as follows:

Roger C. Sullivan, Elmore Hurst, Fred J. Kern, George W. Fithian, Henry M. Pindell, H. N. Wheeler, Eric P. Morris, James R. Williams, John McGillem, Robert M. Switzer, Robert Hunt, R. F. Weber, William B. Schofield, Samuel Alschuler, Ben F. Caldwell and William B. Britton.

Presidential electors at large—Walter H. Bennett, James C. Denyer, Low Witherell and A. D. Cash.

Delegates at large chosen by the Harrison convention: Mayor Carter H. Harrison of Chicago, Henry T. Rainey, John E. Owens, O. P. Thompson, A. W. Lawrence, J. M. Gray, Dr. Walter W. Watson, A. E. Isley.

Electors at large: Congressman A. J. Sabath, Robert Redfield and J. H. Andrews.

Delegates from twentieth district are M. F. Dunlap and W. H. Crow; elector, H. A. Shepherd.

The following delegates from university trustee were named by both the Sullivan and Harrison conventions: M. M. Ellen, M. Henrotin, Laura V. Watson and John R. Trevett.

LOWER COURT DECREE

AFFIRMED.

The supreme court of Illinois has affirmed the finding of the Morgan county circuit court in the case of Dods-worth vs. Dods-worth. In this case it will be remembered that W. T. Dods-worth bought a farm belonging to his son, J. Ralph Dods-worth at tax sale and subsequently claimed that he had a good title to the land because of certain provisions under which it was originally deeded to J. Ralph Dods-worth. The court here found in favor of the son and the higher court affirms the decision.

HAMLET PROVED A GREAT SURPRISE

F. H. Howard's Interpretation of Shakespearean Play Not Just as Expected.

April 19, 1912.
Due John F. Howard, two dollars, being the amount pledged by me to secure his appearance in town, and which I agree will be paid to him on the evening of his recital, whether I attend personally or not.

In case of any failure to attend to it on that evening, I will honor this paper at the Jacksonville, Fla., for the above amount.

The above is the kind of a promissory note a hundred or more well known Jacksonville people signed recently and when each went to Northminster church last night and deposited two dollars at the door the aforesaid notes were returned. Each note for two dollars entitled the holder to three tickets for the Shakespearean recital to be given last night at Northminster, by Mr. John F. Howard, of Boston and the shakers were the fourth and the eighth of Jacksonville, who were willing to join in a subscription list to make possible the coming of so great an artist as Mr. Howard is said to be. Northminster church had nothing to do with the recital save to afford the "place." It can readily be imagined that a very high class audience gathered last night to hear Mr. Howard, an audience expecting to hear a wonderful interpretation of Hamlet.

The recital began shortly after 8 o'clock and Mr. Howard was attired in a dress suit and was also wearing a pair of rubber overshoes. He occasioned some surprise by his opening statement, given with a smile, and in effect that if anybody present could read Shakespeare better than he could he would like to hear them. The speaker's whole manner caused a good deal of comment and as he seemed to be somewhat disturbed in speech and somewhat at fault in memory, the auditors soon began to show signs of restlessness and uneasiness.

Then a few in the audience thought they could stand the strain no longer and took their departure. The example was contagious and within half an hour not more than fifteen were left to hear about Hamlet and his ghost.

Before Mr. Howard had spoken the last lines from the immortal drama the Journal office began to receive telephone messages that a representative should certainly be sent to the church to hear the rest of the program. Some of those who called were in a frame of mind far from amiable and insisted that Mr. Howard was not in condition to appear before any audience Friday night and that he had insulted Jacksonville people outrageously.

A Journal reporter saw Mr. Howard at the Pacific later in the evening, told him of the feeling which existed. Mr. Howard said he had noted the seeming dissatisfaction, which, he said, was probably due to comment made by some jealously inclined person and to the newspaper man that he was a thoroughly competent exponent of Shakespearean work for a long time passages desired. But the reporter didn't feel equal to the task of passing judgment and hadn't time for a private recital either.

Mr. Howard, who is perhaps 35 or 40 years old, has been in Shakespearean work for a long time and carries with him a huge list of testimonials as to his ability stand by prominent people. His repertoire includes Hamlet, Macbeth, Othello, King Lear, Julius Caesar, Anthony and Cleopatra, Romeo and Juliet, A Midsummer Night's Dream, Twelfth Night and Cymbeline. He intended to leave Jacksonville at 1:47 this morning and said last night that he was going to Buffalo, N. Y.

Boxhall, fourth officer; G. Low, fifth officer.

Operator Testifies.

Thomas Cottam, aged 21, of Liverpool, the Marconi operator on the Carpathia, was the first witness at the evening session.

He said the Carpathia wireless instrument would send a message about 250 miles with accuracy.

"How did you happen to catch the Titanic's message of distress?" he was asked.

"I was looking out for a confirmation of a previous message from the Parisian."

"How far had you gotten along in your arrangements to retire?" Had you taken off your clothes?"

"My coat. The telephones were on my head. I was waiting for the Parisian's answer—I had just called her."

"How long would you have waited?"

"Several minutes."

"Would you have retired pretty soon, you think?"

"Yes."

"Well, what did you hear?"

"I didn't hear anything from the Parisian. I heard Cape Cod again sending Marconi news. There were messages for the Titanic."

"When you got the distress message from the Titanic Sunday night how did you get it?"

"I called the Titanic myself, sir."

"Who told you to call the Titanic?"

"No one. I asked the Titanic operator if he was aware that Cape Cod had been sending messages for the Titanic."

"What was the answer?"

"Come at once. This is a distress signal 'C. Q. D.' Cottam testified.

Cottam said he immediately sent them the position of the Carpathia and added they would hurry to the rescue.

The witness said the next communication with the Titanic was four minutes later. The Frankfurt of the North German-Lloyd line broke in, having heard the Titanic's call. Later the steamship Olympic also replied.

"I called the attention of the Titanic to the Olympic's efforts to raise it," said Cottam. "The Titanic replied it could not hear because of the rush of air and the noise made by the escaping steam."

"I was in communication with the Titanic at regular intervals, until the final message," said Cottam. "This was come quick, our engine room is filled up to the boilers."

The witness said the last message he sent to the doomed Titanic telling of the Carpathia's rush to the rescue, probably never reached the ship. He was asked why he so believed.

"I received no answer and that to my mind was significant," he replied.

Cottam said that after the Titanic's survivors were picked up he worked practically continuously until Tuesday when he fell asleep at his post from exhaustion.

Bedroom Steward Questioned.

How Mrs. Isador Straus refused to leave her husband was told by Alfred Crawford of Southampton, bedroom steward on the Titanic. He said Mrs. Straus told her maid to get into a life boat, to which Crawford was ordered by Captain Smith.

"Mrs. Straus put one foot into the boat and then changed her mind. Mr. Straus was standing away back from her. She said to him: 'We have been being together many years, we are not going to separate now.'"

He added that the maid was saved. The witness said the captain told him to take the ladies to a light in the distance, land them and return.

"We pulled for the light, but it seemed to get further away and we never returned," said Crawford.

Crawford said that he saw J. Bruce Ismay on the boat deck with First Officer Murdoch lowering a life boat.

"I think it was the third boat on the starboard side of the ship that they were lowering," said Crawford. "I saw Mr. Ismay helping ladies into that boat and then saw him and First Officer Murdoch lowering the boat into the sea."

"Did you see Director Ismay get into any of the life boats?" Senator Smith asked.

"I did not, sir," Crawford answered.

The steward told of seeing the huge steamer go down bow first.

"The forward lights disappeared and we could see the aft lights high in the air," he said. "Then all gradually disappeared."

The committee adjourned at 10:20 o'clock to tomorrow morning.

AN INDICTMENT OF BRUCE ISMAY

HE AND OTHER OFFICIALS HELD RESPONSIBLE.

Senator Rayner Pictures Managing Director of White Star Line, Who Reached Shore Unharmed, Primarily Responsible For Titanic Disaster.

Washington, April 19.—An indictment rarely equalled in vigor, holding J. Bruce Ismay, managing director, and other officials of the White Star line, responsible for the Titanic disaster, was delivered in the senate today by Senator Rayner of Maryland. He pictured Ismay as the "officer primarily responsible for the whole disaster, who reached the shore in safety and unharmed."

Senator Rayner pointed out that while there were no civil nor criminal remedies available in the American courts, criminal and civil suits could be brought in the British courts and that a congressional committee would have absolute authority to subpoena every one connected with the disaster and that if any one should refuse to answer questions he could be indicted and imprisoned for contempt.

"Mr. Ismay claims, according to reports, that he took the last lifeboat," cried Senator Rayner. "I do not believe it. And if he did it, cowardly to take any lifeboat, for the managing director of the line with his board is criminally responsible for this appalling tragedy."

"If this had happened on an American vessel there would be no question that an indictment would be found and if the facts were sustained the officers of the company could be convicted of manslaughter, if not of murder, because evidence is clear that the vessel was not properly equipped with efficient life saving apparatus."

"I have not the slightest doubt that the northern route was taken in obedience to Mr. Ismay's direct orders and that with full warning, he risked the life of his entire ship to make a speedy passage."

"I care not what the rules of the English admiralty are. Here you have the spectacle of the head of a line failing to see that his ship was properly equipped with life-saving apparatus, heedless of the warnings that he was sailing in a dangerous sea, forsaking his vessel and permitting 1,500 of her passengers to be swallowed by the sea. The agonies of the separation that took place on board the sinking ship are too fearful for the mind to dwell upon but Mr. Ismay, the officer primarily responsible for the whole disaster, has reached his destination in safety and unharmed. No legislation can bring back to earth a single life lost upon that night. What can we do but help to fix the responsibility if possible and rely upon British justice to bring to bay the guilty directorate of this company."

All civilized nations will applaud the criminal prosecution of the management of this line for the victims of their culpable carelessness, a recklessness that sent hundreds of their fellow beings into eternity, desolating homes and firesides and turned this land into a house of mourning.

"In this hour of our calamity we appealed to the majority of the law to deal out retributive justice to this guilty company to the last degree."

Two more bills framed on the lesson drawn from the Titanic disaster were introduced in the house today. One of them, by Representative O'Shaughnessy of Rhode Island, would compel all ocean-going steamships to carry constant and adequate wireless. Representative Parran of Maryland offered a measure to appropriate $160,000 for naval target practice in destroying icebergs by the guns of the warships and by dropping explosive from airships.

QUICK RELIEF FOR RHEUMATISM

George W. Koons, Lawton, Mich., says: "Dr. Detton's Relief for Rheumatism has given my wife wonderful benefit for rheumatism. She could not lift head or foot, had to be lifted for two months. She began the use of the remedy and improved rapidly. On Monday she could not move and on Wednesday she got up, dressed herself and walked out for breakfast. Sold by L. P. Allcott, druggist."

BEAUTIFUL HANDWORK.

In one of the front windows of the great store of Andre & Andre is a beautiful table scarf, the handwork of Mrs. James Martin, residing on rural route 7, in the northwest part of the county. The scarf is adorned with peculiarly beautiful embroidery and is admired by many who have seen it displayed in the prominent place it temporarily occupies.

A LARGE CONTRACT.

What Coover & Shreve Want Every Person in Jacksonville to Do. When Coover & Shreve, the enterprising druggists, first offered a package of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price, and guaranteed to return the money if it did not cure, they thought it probable from their experience with other medicines for these diseases that they would have a good many packages returned. But although they have sold hundreds of bottles, not one has been brought back.

To those suffering with dizziness, headache, poor digestion, constipation and straining, Dr. Howard's specific offers quick relief. It is an invaluable boon to all who feel uncomfortable after eating, and is today the popular dinner pill in all the large cities.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Kennedy of Waverly were shopping in the city yesterday.

WEALTH IS IN THIS STATE'S SOIL

Development of Agricultural Interest of Illinois Communities presents Great Possibilities.

Nearly every city or village has its commercial association, business men's league or other organization for the promotion of the business interests of the community. They vie with each other in an effort to secure manufacturing industries and some are willing to spend large sums of money to influence their location. Does such a policy really increase the wealth of the country?

The greatest manufacturing plant in the world is the land, the soil of which, when intelligently used, yields riches to the community—the only riches it can really call its own. The crops support the railroad, run the factories and make markets for the minerals. It is therefore to the best interest of any community to lighten its burdens, increase its efficiency and promote the improvement of its crops both in quantity and quality.

Should Create Wealth.

That the average production of land in Illinois is less than half what it should be, needs no argument; this fact has been demonstrated over and over, both at the experimental station and on farms owned by progressive farmers, yet the average farm land continues to yield but half a crop. Suppose the land throughout the contributing territory of a town could be made to double its yield, would not the wealth of the community be doubled in one year? Can any business man conceive of a greater manufactory? This would be creating in the community something that had not heretofore existed, moreover, it would not be taking away from some other community something it had struggled to build up. The creation of wealth benefits the country; transferring it from one community to another is expensive and usually an economic waste. Business men may as well realize at once that manufacturing will be done where, other things being equal, cheap and competent labor is most available, and this will always be where food products are plentiful and reasonable in price.

Some Things to Be Encouraged.

Business men might well encourage the drainage of land that is non-productive or producing half crops because of lack of proper drainage. They might encourage the building of silos that will save at least one-third of the feeding value of the greatest crop of the corn belt, and perhaps a good way to do this would be to establish a system of farm finance in the community whereby the farmer who desires to make such improvements may secure funds at the same rate of interest as does the man who builds a sky scraper. They might well become members of the many organizations that are striving to arouse the indifferent farmer to better methods, and by their money and influence help in the great work, and at the same time, broaden their own views to some extent.

Alfalfa Movement Important.

The most important single product of the soil—a product that has been neglected to the detriment of every community—is alfalfa. As a forage plant for general use it has no equal. It is easily grown, it is hardy under trying circumstances, its productive power, its power of improving the soil as well as its excellence as a feed for all kinds of farm animals, commands it to the respectful attention of all business men as well as farmers.

Alfalfa and the silo are factors that are destined to increase the wealth of every community in Illinois and no effort should be spared to hasten the work. There has been and there is an enormous waste in growing and feeding stock because a balanced ration has not been fed. Feed has been thrown away in quantities beyond computation because the requirements of our animals for certain food elements that make for the best and most economical results have not been understood.

At present only a small fraction of the corn fodder grown in this state is utilized for feed, notwithstanding the fact that it carries 40 per cent of the value of the entire corn crop. There is no other business in which we are satisfied to take 60 per cent and turn back or refuse to take 40 per cent that is just as available. Fifteen to twenty tons of green fodder can be grown on an acre in Illinois. The feeding value of three tons of this fodder in the form of ensilage is equal to one ton of hay and taking the lowest estimate of fifteen tons of fodder, we have the equivalent of five tons of hay from one acre which in the past has been largely wasted.

Gold Mine in Every Community.

Alfalfa and the silo makes it possible for every farming community to double its wealth in a few years. With the silo, the entire corn crop can be stored and preserved with little or no loss for future use. With an abundance of alfalfa it can be made an almost perfect food, all utilized at an enormous saving over present wasteful methods. These are the most important factors in the commercial progress and development of Illinois, and there is a wonderful opportunity for business men of every locality, by their interest, assistance, and example, to hurry forward this important movement.

The Illinois Farmers' Institute has just issued a bulletin containing 116 pages of authentic information relative to the growing, harvesting and feeding of alfalfa, and the advantages of the silo; a copy should be in the possession of every land owner and farmer. A request addressed to the secretary, H. A. McKee, Springfield, Ill., will secure a copy. Postage required is seven cents.

Does not take into consideration the one essential to woman's happiness—good health. The woman who neglects her health is neglecting the very foundation of all good fortune. For without health love loses its lustre and gold is but dross. Womanly health when lost or impaired may generally be regained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This Prescription has, for over 30 years, been curing delicate, weak, pain-wracked women, by the hundreds of thousands and this too in the privacy of their homes without their having to submit to indelicate examinations and officiously repugnant examinations.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence held as sacredly confidential. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. YOUNG MOTHERS

No young woman, in the joy of
coming motherhood, should neglect to prepare her system for the physical ordeal she is to undergo.
The health of both herself and the
coming child depends largely upon
the care she bestows upon herself
during the waiting months. Mother's Friend prepares the expectant
mother's system for the coming
event, and its use makes her comfortable during all the term. It works with and for nature, and
by gradually expanding all fissues, muscles and tendons, it solves, and keeping the breasts
in good condition, brings the physical condition. The baby, too, is more apt to be perfect and strong
where the mother has thus prepared herself for nature's supreme function. No better advice could
be given a young expectant mother than that she use Mother's Friend; it is a medicine that has proven its value in thousands of cases. Mother's Friend is sold
at drug stores.

ILLINOIS LAWYERS

State Bar Association to Hold Meeting in Chicago Next Week—Reform in Courts and Judicial Recol-
to be Themes For Discussion.

The Illinois State Bar association
will meet in Chicago on April 26 and 27 in annual convention. The meeting will be one of the largest and
most important ever held by the Illinois bar. Members of state bar associations from every state in the
union have been invited to attend
the meeting and a large number have accepted. Some of the most distinguished jurists of the United States
will be in attendance.

Two timely subjects will be discussed by the attorneys at the assembly and for the purpose of soundness and the sentiment of the bar
all over the country towards these
measures the meeting will be made
national in its scope.

Reform in Courts.
The recall of judges and reforms
in court procedure are the questions
to be discussed by legal lights of
the state and country with a view to arriving at the merits of the two questions.

As a result of the arguments on
the question of "reform in court procedure" the Illinois association will
base recommendations to the next general assembly for legislation eliminating certain impediments in the administration of justice in the courts of Illinois. More expeditious
methods of handling cases in court
have been advocated for years and Illinois attorneys expect to recommend a number of reforms to the legislature.

Judicial Recall.
The judicial recall, now one of the
greatest questions before the public
eye, will be discussed by the members of the bar association and guests
from other states. In this way the general feeling of lawyers and judges
in regard to this measure is expected to be sounded. Members of the Illinois state supreme court will attend
the convention as will many judges
of other states.

The meeting will be held at the Hotel LaSalle, Chicago. Horace Kent
Tenney of Chicago, president of the Illinois State Bar association, will
open the meeting on Friday morning,
April 26, with an address. John F.
Voigt, secretary and treasurer, will report the work of the association for the past year.

Stephen S. Gregory, president of the American Bar association, and Edgar B. Tolman, president of the Chicago Bar association, are also
among the list of distinguished
speakers.

A banquet will be given to the members and their ladies on Saturday evening.

April 19, and the last day was celebrated with an egg roast, which took place at noon. The prizes, which were won by pupils for head marks
in spelling, were awarded at this time and were received by Harold Henderson and Leo Berglund. In the afternoon the children went into the woods to gather wild flowers and to get some small trees to set out in the school yard. There were also a number of pictures taken by the

ness is about the same as last year.
There has been some recessions,
however, from the activity in preceding weeks. Near future spring requirements have been covered. Far-ture buying, save in special lines
of textile, is rendered conservative
by uncertain crop reports and actual serious damage to winter wheat.
Dry goods, footwear, hats and caps,
furnishings, hardware, groceries,
lumber, paints and oils, lead in point
of activity, while the price tone of
the iron and steel markets is much
stronger, with activity in pig iron
and buying of steel bars predomi-nating.

Jobbers of cotton goods have recently taken to buying in small lots,
but in a steady way. The market as a whole is less active. Supplies are light as production in many lines
have been restricted by mill labor
troubles.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending April
18 were 260, against 234 last week;
233 in the like week of 1911; 193
in 1910.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review
of Trade to-morrow will say:

Reports from the leading trade
centers indicate that the recent progress toward increased business confidence and activity continues. The growth of a more optimistic business
sentiment is especially conspicuous
in the west and southwest. The fearful disaster to the Titanic has held a more or less depressing effect temporarily.

Further price advances in iron and steel were announced, and production is well maintained at approximately 90 per cent of capacity. There has been heavy buying of bars by
agricultural machinery interests and quotations are higher. Sheets are also firmer, and on the whole finished lines are strong.

Demand for pig iron has included
basic, malleable and foundry grades.
Important foundries in the east and
central west having covered their requirements for the third quarter and
some for the second half of the year.
There is less structural steel work in sight than for some time. But it is estimated that contracts for standard section rails now pending aggregate about 100,000 tons.

The silk trade is beginning to
show distinct improvement in the volume of fall orders, whole woolen
and worsted lines are in a very satisfactory position.

Improvement is noted in footwear
and, while the higher priced demanded cause conservative buying, both
manufacturers and wholesalers report
an increase in business.

There is no real need of anyone
being troubled with constipation.
Chamberlain's Tablets will cause an
agreeable movement of the bowels
without any unpleasant effect. Give them a trial. For sale by all dealers.

YOUNG WIFE

SAVED FROM

HOSPITAL

Tells How Sick She Was And

What Saved Her From

An Operation.

Upper Sandusky, Ohio.—"Three years ago I was married and went to housekeeping. I was not feeling well and could hardly drag myself along. I had such tired feelings, my back ached, my sides ached, I had bladder trouble awfully bad, and I could not get to sleep. I had headaches, too, and became almost a nervous wreck. My doctor told me to go to a hospital. I did not like that idea very well, so, when I saw your advertisement in a paper, I wrote to you for advice, and have done as you told me. I have taken Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, and now I have my health.
"If sick and ailing women would only know enough to take your medicine, they would get relief."—Mrs. BENJ. H. STANS-BERRY, Route 6, Box 18, Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

If you have mysterious pains, irregularity, backache, extreme nervousness,
inflammation, ulceration or displacement, don't wait too long, but try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound now.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy
for female ills, and such unquestionable
testimony as the above proves the value of this famous remedy and should give every one confidence.

NATURE SPARES

The Stricken Rose From Grief.

What a fortunate provision of nature
it is, that deprives the face of agonal
suffering, for how poignant would be the
grief to discover, in the midst of its bleeding glory, that a cancer had at its heart, and that its beauty and fragrance
were doomed forever. Nature always spares the suffering; she is a veritable storehouse of pleasure rewards, for those who seek her aid. In the years gone by fading hair and grayness have cast a gloom over the lives of thousands of young women, but thanks to the investigations of scientists the true cause
of hair destruction is now known to be
a germ or parasite that burrows into
the hair follicles. Newbro's Herpicide absolutely destroys this germ, thus
preventing the hair to grow as nature intended. Sold by leading druggists. Send for stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Grain Letter.

Chicago, April 19.—Wheat—Although under heavy profit taking sales, the market steadily gained strength. The heavy sales of the past few days have been well absorbed. Crop losses are confirmed

from all directions and no question

but the abandoned acreage will exceed anything ever known. Crop expert Snow says the outlook is full

half a crop in Missouri with favorable conditions. Illinois, usually counted the most reliable of investigators, expresses the opinion that upward of four million acres will be abandoned in Illinois and Indiana. It is quoted as saying prospect to this date in twenty years. Messages from very reliable sources all through the soft wheat

belt point to calamity. Reports have been coming in through west-

YOUNG MOTHERS

No young woman, in the joy of
coming motherhood, should neglect to prepare her system for the
physical ordeal she is to undergo.
The health of both herself and the
coming child depends largely upon
the care she bestows upon herself
during the waiting months. Motherer's Friend prepares the expectant
mother's system for the coming
event, and its use makes her comfortable during all the term. It
works with and for nature, and
by gradually expanding all tissues, muscles and tendons involved, and keeping the breasts
in good condition, brings the woman to the crisis in splendid physical condition. The baby, too, is
more apt to be perfect and strong
where the mother has thus prepared herself for nature's supreme
function. No better advice could
be given a young expectant mother than that she use Mother's Friend; it is a medicine that has
proven its value in thousands of
cases. Mother's Friend is sold
at drug stores.

ant mothers which contains much suggestions of a helpful nature.

ILLINOIS LAWYERS

State Bar Association to Hold Meet-
ing in Chicago Next Week—Re-
form in Courts and Judicial Recol-
l to be Themes For Discussion.

The Illinois State Bar association
will meet in Chicago on April 26 and 27 in annual convention. The meeting will be one of the largest and
most important ever held by the Illinois bar. Members of state bar associations from every state in the
union have been invited to attend
the meeting and a large number have
accepted. Some of the most distinguished jurists of the United States
will be in attendance.

Two timely subjects will be discussed by the attorneys at the assembling and for the purpose of rounding the sentiment of the bar
all over the country towards these
measures the meeting will be made
national in its scope.

Reform in Courts.
The recall of judges and reforms
in court procedure are the questions
to be discussed by legal lights of
the state and country with a view to
arriving at the merits of the two
questions.

As a result of the arguments on
the question of "reform in court procedure" the Illinois association will
base recommendations to the next general assembly for legislation eliminating certain impediments in the administration of justice in the courts of Illinois. More expeditious
methods of handling cases in court
have been advocated for years and
Illinois attorneys expect to recommend a number of reforms to the legislature.

Judicial Recall.
The judicial recall, now one of the
greatest questions before the public
eye, will be discussed by the members of the bar association and guests
from other states. In this way the
general feeling of lawyers and judges
in regard to this measure is expected
to be sounded. Members of the Illinois state supreme court will attend
the convention as will many judges
of other states.

The meeting will be held at the
Hotel LaSalle, Chicago. Horace Kent
Tenney of Chicago, president of the Illinois State Bar association, will
open the meeting on Friday morning,
April 26, with an address. John P.
Vogel, secretary and treasurer, will report the work of the association for the past year.

Stephen S. Gregory, president of the American Bar association, and
Edgar B. Tolman, president of the Chicago Bar association, are also
among the list of distinguished
speakers.

A banquet will be given to the
members and their ladies on Saturday evening.

AGED HORSE DIES

Sim Simon Wald, the oldest horse
in Scott county, died recently, aged 36 years, several months and a few days. Simon was the property of S.
W. Wald and had been in that family from the hour of his birth, which occurred at the same farm on which he died. Those interested in the career of this long lived specimen of horse flesh will be interested in learning of his ancestry, which is as follows:
Simon was sired by Dan, and his dam
was Copper Bottom and Raymond stock, quite a celebrity in days gone
by.

brated with an egg roast, which took place at noon. The prizes, which
were won by pupils for head marks

time and were received by Harold Henderson and Leo Bergland. In the afternoon the children went into the
woods to gather wild flowers and to
get some small trees to set out in the school yard. There were also a number of pictures taken by the

TRADE REVIEW

Volume of Business About the Same as Last Year—Future Buying Is Still Conservative.

New York, April 19.—Bradstreet's

Trade is steady as a whole, and in many lines the volume of business is about the same as last year.

There has been some recessions,
however, from the activity in preceding weeks. Near future spring requirements have been covered. Far future buying, save in special lines
of extiles, is rendered conservative
by uncertain crop reports and actual serious damage to winter wheat.
Dry goods, footwear, hats and caps,
furnishings, hardware, groceries,
lumber, paints and oils, lead in point
of activity, while the price tone of
the iron and steel markets is much
stronger, with activity in pig iron
and buying of steel bars predominating.

Jobbers of cotton goods have recently taken to buying in small lots,
but in a steady way. The market as
a whole is less active. Supplies are
light as production in many lines
have been restricted by mill labor
troubles.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending April
18 were 260, against 234 last week,
233 in the like week of 1911; 192
in 1910.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review
of Trade to morrow will say:

Reports from the leading trade
centers indicate that the recent progress toward increased business confidence and activity continues. The growth of a more optimistic business
sentiment is especially conspicuous
in the west and southwest. The fearful disaster to the Titanic has held
a more or less depressing effect temporarily.

Further price advances in iron and
steel were announced, and production is well maintained at approximately 90 per cent of capacity. There
has been heavy buying of bars by
agricultural machinery interests and quotations are higher. Sheets are
also firmer, and on the whole finished lines are strong.

Demand for pig iron has included
basic, malleable and foundry grades.
Important foundries in the east and
central west having covered their requirements for the third quarter and
some for the second half of the year.
There is less structural steel work in sight than for some time. But it is estimated that contracts for standard section rails now pending aggregate about 100,000 tons.

The silk trade is beginning to
show distinct improvement in the
volume of fall orders, whole woolen
and worsted lines are in a very satisfactory position.

Improvement is noted in footwear
and, while the higher prices demanded cause conservative buying, both
manufacturers and wholesalers report an increase in business.

There is no real need of anyone
being troubled with constipation.
Chamberlain's Tablets will cause an
agreeable movement of the bowels
without any unpleasant effect. Give them a trial. For sale by all dealers.

NATURE SPARES

The Stricken Lose From Grief.

What a fortunate provision of nature
it is, that deprives the mind of memory
suffering, for how poignant would be the
grief to discover, in the midst of its blooming glory, that a garden plot at its
heart, and that its beauty and fragrance
were doomed forever. Nature always
spares the suffering; she is a veritable storehouse of pleasing rewards, for those who seek her aid. In the world gone by falling hair and grayness have cut a gloom over the lives of thousands
of young women, but thanks to the investigations of scientists the true cause
of hair destruction is now known to be
a germ or parasite that burrows into
the hair follicles. Needham's Herpicide
absolutely destroys this germ, thus
preventing the hair to grow as nature intended. Sold by leading druggists. Send 15c. in stamps for sample

Grain Letter.

Chicago, April 19.—Wheat.—Although under heavy profit taking sales the market steadily gained strength. The heavy sales of the past few days have been well absorbed. Crop losses are confirmed from all directions and no question but the abandoned acreage will exceed anything ever known. Crop expert Snow says the outlook is for half a crop in Missouri with favorable conditions. In fact, usually counted the most reliable of investors, expresses the opinion that upward of four million acres will be abandoned in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. He is quoted as saying prospects poorest at this date in twenty years. Messages from very reliable sources all through the soft wheat belt point to calamity. Reports have been coming in through whole sale distributing houses our west that are disturbing and indicate the section recently supposed to be in good condition, has also been hurt. Nebraska reports are taking on an unfavorable color. No doubt remains that wheat sections directly tributary to Chicago have been so injured that early arrivals of new wheat are out of the question. July wheat, without doubt be old crop delivery. Ruling prices for cash wheat and the strength of May delivery point to a much higher price for July. September is attracting buyers. Spring wheat news is still hopeful but that fact that fall plowing was not extensive and much of the spring wheat area will be carelessly seeded leads to the fear that spring wheat may suffer as well as winter. The entire crop, of course, is not destroyed. Many favorable reports will come in and sharp declines may be expected, but we firmly believe conditions justify the purchase of July and September wheat at present prices or on further break.

Corn.—Corn has deteriorated into a scalping market. Shorts were active buyers, influenced by wheat strength. Local bulls have given the market support on the soft spots. Receipts are too small to be a factor, but demand is lacking on all the bulgers. Consumers are cutting consumption and the closing down of many manufacturing plants is a bearish factor. A vast amount of abandoned wheat area will probably be put in corn. With reasonably favorable weather the abandoned land and the high price promises to bring about a record breaking area. Corn appears to be about its present price and purchases on any breaks from this level should net scalping profits.

Oats.—Oats showed decided strength. Recent rains have further delayed seeding and much prospective oat area will not be turned to corn, not much more is being heard of turning abandoned wheat acreage into oats. It is too late to turn much wheat land into oats. Oat area promises to be short. The season is now so late that July oats will certainly be old crop delivery and as such they should be higher than the present price for cash oats and May oats. Supplies are expected to be practically exhausted before the new crop is available. Country elevators have sold cash oats at 18c. MORE MONEY FOR WOMAN'S COLLEGE

Substantial Gain Is Made In Endowment Campaign — $8,000 Pledged in Past Eight Days.

At the chapel exercises of the Woman college Friday morning President Barker announced additional pledges to the $180,000 endowment and indebtedness fund to the amount of $8,000. This makes a total of $20,000 to date, or an average of $1,000 a day since the campaign began. To be sure the announcement of the gifts was received with prolonged applause. Dr. Barker has been out of the city for the past eight days and as it was known that he had returned Thursday night the students were expectant of a report and the one given was indeed a most encouraging and gratifying one. Eight more squares were marked off on the index board in music hall, making twenty in all that have been canceled.

Dr. Barker said that it was in the plan to raise $50,000 by commencement in June and he felt sure it was going to be accomplished. He said that he received a good sign on the first day of the campaign, for that very day he received a letter from a friend in a far distant state containing a substantial subscription, and since that time gifts to the college have continued to come.

The prospects for the coming year are very bright as many young women are already registering for 1912-13. This year the enrollment included graduates from twenty-three different states and from sixty-six counties in Illinois.

MR. SHEEHAN APPRECIATIVE.

John W. Sheehan, attorney, with office in the Hay building, Springfield, was defeated for the Democratic nomination for the legislature, but seems to take his defeat philosophically. In a letter he addressed to his friends Mr. Sheehan said:

"I desire to express my warmest appreciation of the support you gave me at the primary election on April 9th, last, in my race for the legislature. I was defeated at the election solely because of conditions that prevailed. I was a member of no faction; had neither money nor organization back of me, but I was an American citizen to enter the contest. Supported only by my individual friends, whose loyalty I shall always cherish, but, considering the circumstances above mentioned, in my humble judgment, I think my friends and myself have reasons to be proud of the vote I received in this district. For the successful candidates, individually, I entertain the most friendly feeling and pledge them my support as a true Democrat."

THREE EYE LEAGUE SCHEDULE.

Decatur, Ill., April 19.—The most harmonious and shortest season of the Three Eye League in its history resulted today in the adoption of a three trip paired schedule of the games, the season to open May 1 and close September 15. The pairings are as follows:

Quincy with Peoria, Peoria with Quincy, Decatur with Springfield, Bloomington with Danville.

Each pair will move simultaneously except when playing each other. The opening games will be Quincy at Decatur, Peoria at Danville, Decatur at Springfield, Bloomington at Springfield. On the first Sunday the teams will be just reversed.

WILSON'S SUIT CASE FOUND.

Chicago, April 19. Gov. Woodrow Wilson's suit case, which was stolen from his room in a downtown hotel here ten days ago, was found. It was recovered as the result of an anonymous telephone message to the hotel. Apparently nothing had been removed from it. It was at St. Mary's parish house that Gov. Wilson was dining with Father P. J. O'Callahan when the suit case was stolen.

LEAP YEAR SOCIAL.

A leap year social was held at the Mt. Emory Baptist church on Thursday evening and there was a large crowd present. The hostesses were Mrs. Hattie Mosely and Mrs. Naomi Strain. A very pleasant evening was spent and an appetizing supper was served.

W. T. Padgett, member Coleman Post No. 507, Mt. Vernon, Ill., says he was long bothered with his kidneys. "Their action was irregular and caused much distress," with a constant dull dragging pain in his back. After taking Foley's Kidney Pills his kidneys have been restored to normal action and the pains disappeared. I recommend them to my friends and fellow comrades." City Drug Store, J. A. Obermeyer.

Mrs. Charles Jay of St. Paul was visiting friends in Peoria City Hall day.

The Mocking Bird, Lank, Williamson, Songs, Arbor Day.

Fourth Ward School.

The students of the Fourth ward school observed Arbor Day with a program of recitations and poems appropriate to the occasion. The anniversary of the battles of Lexington and Concord were observed by the pupils of the seventh grade history class with a program of recitations and poems.

First Ward School.

Arbor Day at the First ward was fittingly observed by the students of the planting of trees and seeds. The first and second grade pupils planted some seeds, while those of the third and fourth grades planted a hard maple tree in the back yard. They also planted two spruces in the front yard. After the planting Mr. Hadley, member of the board of education from the first ward, made an address to the pupils.

Third Ward School.

The pupils of the Third ward school could do little to observe Arbor Day on account of the cold weather and the fact that when the school is closed the school yard is to be graded. However, they made a small garden, preparing the ground for the seed, which they expect to plant later.

UNITING PROPERTIES.

Deeds in McLean County Show Organization Changes in Traction System.

The Bloomington Pantagraph tells about papers which have been recorded there showing Illinois Traction changes.

Two persons, carrying property sums in six or more figures and representing a further step in the consolidation of the lines of the Illinois Traction system, were filed with the county recorder yesterday.

Some time ago the traction company began the work of consolidating the various lines of the system and the papers filed yesterday are said by Mr. Linn, the local manager, to be a further part of the project.

Early in the day was filed a certificate of the increase of stock of the Springfield & St. Louis railroad. An increase of $2,800,000 was made, raising the capital stock of the company from $5,500,000 to $8,300,000.

Later in the day a deed of conveyance was filed by which the Peoria, Bloomington & Champaign Traction company transfers to the St. Louis, Springfield & Peoria company all the property included in the line running from this city to Peoria.

The property scheduled for transfer includes property in the city of Peoria described as lots 10, 11, 12, block 15, Ballance & Maxwell and Underhill's addition, which is the ground upon which the offices in that city are located. This side of the river bridge at Peoria, the transfer includes the right of way, the station properties at all the intervening stops and the power plant in this city.

All contracts are included in the transfer and all contract rights, fully obligated shares of stock, franchise ordinances held by the grantors and all other properties, real or personal, connected with the management of the line described as the Peoria, Bloomington & Champaign company.

The St. Louis, Springfield & Peoria company take there for the sum of $1,172,000 paid in par value of common capital stock. All existing liabilities are assumed by the purchaser.

The grantor signs by Charles

Zelly, vice president, and George M. Matthis, assistant secretary.

FROM COL. CROWELL.

Elderly citizens will remember H. B. King, at one time agent for the Chicago & Alton railroad some time back in the sixties and early seventies. He had a sister named Mrs. John Morrison and now residing in New York City. She has taken the Journal upward of forty years and likes to keep posted on Jacksonville affairs, though so long away.

When she saw the article describing the occasion when the memory of the charter members of Urania, No. 242, was honored she at once remembered that many years before she had been a friend and neighbor of the Crowell family and sat down at once and wrote them a letter, renewing the old acquaintance.

Bro. J. T. Osborne received from Col. Crowell a very interesting letter speaking of the affair and expressing the pleasure he felt.
